MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS,

The Market Meets Fractional Losses all Around, the Grangers Leading the Drop. NEW YORK, Nov. 28 .- Money on call was easy at 2 to 24 per cent., the last loan being made at 21, closing offered at 21. Prime mercantile paper, 41 @ 61 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull and easier at $4.844 for sixty-day bills and $4.882 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 251,770 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 6,600; Erie, 10,700; Lake Shore, 22,700; Missouri Pacific, 15,135; Northwestern, 9,200; Norfolk & Western, 3,416; Northern Pacific preferred, 7,350; Oregon Transcontinental, 3,800; Reading, 52,200; Richmond & West Point, 9,500; St. Paul, 20,700; St. Paul & Omaha, 3,140; Union Pacific, 16,400; Western Union, 10,000.

The stock market was quiet to-day and, while heavy for the general list, made no marked movement except in the grangers, which scored declines extending to 6 per cent., though a portion of the losses were recovered before the close. There was a general indisposition to operate among those interested in the market this morning, and the trading during the forenoon was devoid of special feature, though the grangers and the Omabas, in particular, showed marked weakness. There was nothing in the news of the day to make any important change in the market, but in the afternoon were plenty of rumors put afloat, evidently with the object of depressing the list. The special stock selected for this attempt was Rock Island, and it was asserted that the management was not in favor of the new arrangement among the Western roads, and that it had refused to advance rates. The dividend was afterwards said to be in danger of reduction, and the rumors were seconded by a most vigorous attack upon the stock, which, on an unusually heavy business for it, dropped 6 points, dragging all the grangers with it, and to a less extent the rest of the list. The reports were denied in toto by President Cable, who happened to be in town, and more favorable reports in regard to trunk-line affairs met with no response until toward the close, when the covering of "shorts" led to a partial rally in the list. The Southern, Southwestern and Vanderbilt stocks were exceptionally well held, but they were not able to make any headway against the general drift of prices, notwithstanding the support received. The market opened with a fair degree of animation, while first prices were irregular, but generally hibger, as, after a little hesitation the market gathered strength and moved up fractionally. Rock Island, however, soon displayed marked weakness, and the other grangers fell in behind, and on an increased business the entire list moved off, all the early gains being wiped out before noon. The afternoon saw stagnation among the majority of the list, but the grangers still contin-ued active and declined steadily, bringing the rest of the list down to the lowest figures toward delivery hour. Later, however, there was a general improvement, but the time was too short to recover the losses of the day, and while the market closed firm it was at fractional losses for the day. Rock Island shows a net loss of 4 per cent, but the rest of the list lost fractional amounts only.

Railroad bonds were somewhat more active, the sales of all issues aggregating $1,063,000, but the only activity noticeable was in the Kansas & Texas issues, the sixes furnishing $128,000 and the fives $97,-000 to the grand total. The feature of the day was the advance and subsequent decline in the International seconds, which, on the decision of Judge Brewer, rose from 74 to 80, but settled back to 75; a net gain of 11. The general list shows little improvement and no feature, and the few important changes comprise advances in Denver & South Park firsts, 3 to 73, and Alton & Terre Haute second incomes, 2 to 105; and losses in Houston & Texas general tracts of 3, at 68.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.-Wheat ruled fairly active and prices higher. Trading was mostly local, with good buying credited to the class of traders known as professionals. While no doubt a good deal of the buying to-day was from shorts who did not care to remain so over Thanksgiving day, there was also buying for long account The market opened 10 to higher than yesterday's closing, solu off ic, and then advanced 2c, and closed about 2c higher than yesterday. Trading was only moderately active in corn. fluctuations being confined within narrow limits, with transactions largely of a local character. The feeling on the whole was easier and prices reached still lower figures. Initial trades were at yesterday's closing prices. The market was easy for a time, then developed some strength, but again reacted and closed a shade lower than yesterday. A weaker feeling developed in oats and prices averaged lower. The weakness in corn had a depressing tendency on holders and induced free selling of May especially during the early part of the day and prices declined 20 c. The break brought in a fair number of buyers and a rally of to followed, but the market closed easy at intermediate prices. An unusually active business was transacted in mess pork. Opening sales were made at 10c decline, but a temporary rally of 21 25c was gained. Later the feeling was decidedly weak and prices declined somewhat irregularly 20 @ 221c. Toward the close the feeling was steadier, and prices rallied 5@74c and closed steady. Trading was moderately active in lard, and the feeling was unsettled and weak. Prices ruled .071 @.10c lower and the market closed rather quiet. More interest was manifested in short ribs and trading was quite active. Prices ruled rather weak and declined .072 2.10c, and MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—Posted recipts of only 290 cars in this city had a slightly stimulating effect on all markets in the morning and with an advance in speculative trading sellers of milling wheat felt themselves justified in asking higher prices. The tables were only moderately well supplied, and most of the wheat was off grade stuff that was not wanted by millers for grinding. Of the 236 cars inspected, but 6 graded No. 1 hard, and that grade was in the best demand. Holders were asking $1.22 on track. Sales of all other grades show a little improvement over yesterday, although, as usual, considerable low-grade stuff was carried away unsold at the close. Trade a Little Slow, with No Fluctuation in

Values of Importance. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 28.

In all departments, to-day, trade was rather quiet, the near approach of a holiday and the strike checking business, while fluctuations in values were few. Coffees carry a strong tone. while sugars are barely steady. Canned goods are more inquired about, and prices are becoming better settled. That there is plenty of canned goods for all requirements is becoming apparent, and all efforts to bull prices seem to be unavailing. Dry goods men report their trade a little quiet, but the volume of business for the month has been good. Wool is in a strong position, with prices upward in their tendency. The provision market is rather quiet, with few changes in values. In a jobbing way there is something doing. The produce markets, to-day, were an exception to other markets. The commission men were busy sending out poultry, eggs, apples and other fruits, and the prices for the day, at least, carried a very firm tone. The indications are that there will be less poultry left over this Thanksgiving than usual. Other markets present no new features.

The market carries a blue look; arrivals of all cereals are light, and buyers are few, an indifference pervading the grain circles. The strike is unfavorably affecting the movement, Prices, except on oats and hay, rule weak and unsettled. We quote: Wheat-No. 2 red. 81 to $1.02; No. 3 red, 93c to 96c; rejected, 70c to 85c. Pittsburg Chronicle. An ever-acceptable article is the inevitable pin-cushion of designs unlimited. A triangular cushion is made of pale-green silk, with a deep pleating of silk around the edges. The top is covered with serim or bolting cloth in gold. Over the pleating of silk is a ruffle of deep lace, black showing well over the green. The lace falls to the end of the pleating, and at one corner is daintily caught up by a bow of wide pale-green ribbon. Very narrow lace is sewed on the seams and turned back over the deeper lace. A flower stand is made of three pieces of cardboard about one foot long and six inches wide, which are tied together about one inch from the top with narrow ribbon and fastened at the bottom with gilt nails. When together the stand is triangular in shape. It is painted in panel form in any design by the artist who makes it. One panel may have a sprig of apple blossoms, another a scene, and the third a branch with two birds perched upon it in sleep. The corners are ornamented by bunches of grass, ears and gilt poppy-heads. Dried flowers, grasses and cat-tails may fill this stand, and, if fresh flowers are destined to be placed therein, a tin must first be inserted. A novel handkerchief sachet is made of two round pieces of delicate silk, figured being preferable, about twenty inches wide. Each piece is drawn together tight in the middle over a layer of strongly perfumed cotton, inclosed in muslin. One piece when completed is sewn about three-quarters of an inch along the edge of the other, and forms the lid which is trimmed in the center with imitation Valenciennes and very narrow ribbon. When the lower piece is drawn, loops of the narrow ribbon are used. When completed, the sachet is everything but ordinary, and is worth the time spent in mak-

A newspaper holder is made of two Japanese fans, one of larger dimensions than the other. The smaller one is stiffened with wire and set into the handle of the larger one. The Japanese patterns are embroidered in colored silks, and the edges of the fans bound in cord. The handle has the usual addition of a ribbon bow. Three round sticks covered with plush, pale green, make an easel of the size sufficient to hold a cabinet photograph. A silk drapery of the same pretty shade is carelessly arranged on the easel by a spray of berries or leaves. A white silk pallette, the foundation, of course, being smooth cardboard, has a beautiful scene painted thereon, a vision of lake, mountain and dale executed with artistic skill. These are a few samples of what may be accomplished by deft fingers for others' delectation, culled from numerous quarters, and beautiful results may be obtained from one's handiwork. There are always little comforts for the ease of man, and as for a woman-well, her toilet table can never be burdened by too many articles which flud their sphere satisfactory in utility and beauty.

To Make Chickens Grow Fast. The Cackler.

Nothing will enlarge the capacity of a chicken quicker than a varied bill of fare and a good supply of green food. To chickens in confinement, onion tops are especially acceptable, and the tops are relished more than are the bulbs themselves. Beet and turnip tops will be greedily devoured. That they may not be wasted, lay them with the tops all one way and weight them down with a stone. Bran and shorts, wheat and oats, table-scraps and meat, with a very little corn, a few sunflower seeds and a small amount of buckwheat make an irresistible combination, a combination that will make a chicken grow and thrive in spite of itself.

To make pullets trot along toward maturity with a wonderfully accelerated pace, give them every morning a warm feed of bran and shorts and ground oats mixed up with milk, or meat stock in which there is a little salt. At noon give a feed of meat, and at night all the wheat they will eat and a little left to scratch for the next day. In addition to this, provide green food, crushed bones and pure water, and give each day one heavy feed of broken dishes; they will be eaten with avidity.

Feeding pepper often to fowls as a regular appetizer is a bad practice. Although a very little will do no harm, yet the continued use of the condiment is liable to cause liver complaint. Warm feed tends to have the same stimulating effect without possessing the injurious qualities The only way to make a chicken house is to build it with a board floor. Where the droppings nightly fall on the ground the soil will become foul and damp, even though it be cleaned out every day of the year. The onors that then arise are unwholesome in the extreme, will cause roup, and, in fact, nearly all the ills that poultry flesh is heir to. The board floor should then be kept covered with two or three inches of dry soil, which should be repeatedly renewed. The only way to make roosts is to make them on a movable frame that may be taken out of doors, there to be scalded with boiling hot water, in which is a little crude carbolic acid. Make the roosts all on a level and not more than two feet high, thereby preventing much quarreling and the bumble foot.
